And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

The biggest value on the entertainment scene that we have run across are the community festivals that are cropping up all over the country. Being a Bicentennial year, there are probably more of these than usual but the trend started a few years ago and is increasing in popularity.

Most of the festivals are built around local cultures which play heavily on ethnic groups such as German, Mexican-American, Blacks, Swedish, etc. Because of this these festivals have some of the finest food available and very fascinating arts and crafts and entertainment.

Barbara, Rick and I spent this past weekend visiting with our daughter, Beth, in Fort Worth and went to the Mayfest on the Trinity River Saturday afternoon and evening.

Beth and Cindy Keith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Bryant, were volunteer workers during the four-day festival. Mrs. Keith was chairman of four booths.

The festival had something for everyone with all kinds of arts and craft booths, food booths and games and activities for kids of all ages.

Probably some of the better festivals around are those down in the German communities of south central Texas.

About the only real conclusion that I can draw from the presidential primaries, especially the Texas primary, is that people are opposed to anyone who has been in Washington. At the present time it looks like the two candidates on the ballot this fall will be Reagan and Carter and neither one has served any time in Washington. A dark horse possibility for Carter's place on the ballot could be Brown of California, and he like the other two does not have any connection with Washington.

You can analyze all of the many candidates that have been in the race at one time or another and the only common thing that the current leaders possess is their lack of ties to the federal government.

We have had candidates that have promised us more and better government programs to solve all our problems and we have had candidates that promise to get the federal government out of our lives but the public just does not seem to believe any of them if they have had any association with Washington.

Who knows where Carter or Reagan really stand on solving most of the problems that face the American people today? We suspect nobody, and the strange thing is that nobody really cares. The people just want out. The average person is so tired and bewildered that he would just like to stop the world and rest awhile.

In many ways the American people today remind me of the young people who want all of the benefits of home but don't like any of the restraints or responsibilities. All of us are tired of all of the government programs that don't seem to work and that don't benefit us individually.

The only good government programs that we like are those that benefit us. If you are on social security the benefits are not high enough, but if you are paying social security the tax load is too great and the program is going broke.

If you are unemployed the welfare and other benefits are not enough but if you have a job the whole program is a ripoff for the lazy.

In a recent column, Louis Kohlmeier points out that, "The government has 228 health programs, 156 income security and social service programs, 83 housing programs, and so forth. Washington has spent billions on health and has failed to provide hospital and medical care at prices

gospel truth
by Bro. Marshall Townsley

"Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might. Put on the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. For we wrestle not against FLESH AND BLOOD, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places." Eph. 6: 10-12

Christians pray! We are in the fiercest battle of the ages. Satan and his demons must be dethroned over Hamlin and surrounding areas. Some of you may be saying that this man is a fool (I forgive you) but I exhort you to recognize what God has said in these precious scriptures. He said, "For we wrestle not against flesh and blood. . . . The enemy has deceived us into thinking that if we 'have it out' or 'give sister Bucketmouth a piece of our mind' that the situation will be cleared up. How foolish! While we fight one another Satan remains loose to accomplish his evil elsewhere. Think. If I want to get rid of an ugly week I have to get at the root. The outward actions of mankind are a direct result of the conditions of the hearts. Therefore it is a spiritual battle not a carnal one. "For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war after the flesh." II Cor. 10:3

FROM THE FILES . . .

FIFTY YEARS AGO (May 14, 1926)

Last Saturday afternoon a near fatal accident happened to a band of young girls and boys while in a car north of town. From the many and various conflicting reports it is not possible to give the exact details of the affair, but the main features were that little Miss Dorothy Nell Tims suffered a broken limb just above the ankle and little Miss Era Blanton's face was lacerated, but not very badly. Dorothy Nell was taken Sunday morning to the San Angelo hospital for treatment. Her condition improved so much that she was able to return home Wednesday night.

It is not safe to try to tell how these children got hurt, but from the nearest we can get at it, the cause was that a large number were riding a car driven by little Herman Birdwell and from some reason their car hit a Mr. Mahaffy's car and damaged it quite a bit and threw a number of the children out. It was a fortunate thing that no one was killed.

This week two more modern homes were started on Jackson Avenue. They are being built by Martin McCain and E. Clyde Smith. Mr. McCain is now Cashier of the First National Bank and is really "locating" when he starts a brick residence. That is the kind he is building. He has secured lots from W. D. Eakin and the residence will fill the gap between Mr. Eakin's home and the Dolman residence.

E. Clyde Smith is constructing his residence on the lots secured from Mr. Temple, on the north side of the Temple home. Thus another gap is being filled with a modern home. Speaking of "gaps," in the beginning of towns there is usually lots of room given to homes and as the town grows the wide lawns give way to more homes. That is just what is taking place in Hamlin. Ample lawn room will soon be a rarity instead of a common thing. Building locations are getting scarce. That means more houses to the block and closer neighbors and of course greater fire danger.

On last Friday evening just about seven o'clock, as H. M. Payne was coming into town from the east on the Stamford road, he got to the Orient crossing just in time for the switch engine and a few cars to back into him. No one was fatally hurt, but Mr. Payne had a very narrow escape.

From reports, it appears that the trainmen on the step of the caboose, saw the approaching auto and as it seemed to be slowing down they thought it was going to stop, and when car knocker Scott saw the crash was unavoidable he jumped from the steps and landed clear, while on the other side, brakeman Fuller attempted to jump and did jump, but it is said he landed right on top of the auto and rolled with it. He suffered a badly lacerated hand and probably will lose one finger. He was taken to the San Angelo hospital.

TWENTY YEARS AGO (May 10, 1956)

Hamlin area is destined to share an expenditure of some $4,620,000 for highway construction and repairs during 1957 and 1958, according to Jake Roberts, district highway engineer, who was in Hamlin last Wednesday talking about the projects.

The expenditures are part of a huge program being planned by the Texas Highway Commission in conjunction with the federal aid program that is now being considered in Washington, Roberts said.

Three projects in the Hamlin area included in the program are widening and resurfacing of Highway 92 from Hamlin east to Tuxedo; resurfacing of farm-to-market Highway 1636 south of Hamlin; and construction of a new segment from Noodle northward through Lawlis Flat toward Sylvester; and widening and resurfacing of Highway 83 north from the Santa Fe Railway tracks in Hamlin to Aspermont.

Hamlin schools will get their new gymnasium and band room by start of the school term in September, it was announced by officials of the board of trustees Wednesday morning following a special session of the group Tuesday night.

Actual work on the building, which will be located just west of the present high school building, is destined to get underway within a few days.

Members of the official board of the local Camp Fire Girls organization met at the Camp Fire hut Friday evening.

The following officers were elected to serve on the board: John D. Ferguson, president; Mrs. R. L. McClung, vice president; Mrs. W. S. Seals, secretary; Mrs. Arlie Cassle, treasurer; Mrs. R. L. McClung chairman of the leaders' association.

Hamlin High School's Future Farmers of America dairy cattle judging team, composed of Davey Weaver, Gene Steele and Steve Reynolds, placed eighth in the state FFA judging contest held at Texas A & M Saturday.

The group was accompanied by T. C. Blankinship, team coach.

Considering that more than 38,000 boys in Texas are enrolled in vocational agriculture and are members of the Texas Association of Future Farmers of America, the group from Hamlin are proud of taking the eighth place honor in state competition.

TEN YEARS AGO (May 12, 1966)

Judy Jenkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Jenkins, is valedictorian of the 1966 graduating class with a four year grade average of 95.24. Jimmy Hawkins, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Hawkins, is salutatorian with an average of 93.23. Other honor students who have maintained an average of 90 or above during the four years are Glenda Hudspeth, Jim Kincaid, Linda Legan, Mike Rountree and Sheila Stone.

The Hamlin Board of Trustees voted Monday night to start making plans for a $750,000 bond election the latter part of June for the construction of a four grade high school building north of the football stadium. The board voted 6 to 1 in favor of the new building.

The building is still in the designing stage with the complete plans waiting on the passage of the bonds. But presenet plans call for a complete high school with a practice gym, and a cafeteria and auditorium combination.

Highlighting the installation banquet of the Hamlin Jaycees and Jayceettes was the presentation of the Key Man award to Ewell Mackey and the Jaycee of the Year award to Horton Brandon.

The last program of the year for the Hamlin Parent-Teachers Association was held Thursday in the primary cafeteria. The invocation was given by the Rev. Tommy Ewing. Entertainment was presented by the first grade.

Mrs. Eddie Offield gave the thought for the month.

WORSHIP BEGINS IN THE HOME

Our home is more than just a pretty structure, of course it does provide comfort, but beyond that, it is a place where joy abounds . . . it is a place where love is abundant, it is a place of cooperation, and it is a place where the Lord is worshiped. From the home, our relationship with God is carried over into the church. It is there that my family is able to share worshiping the Lord with others. Ours would not be a full life, if we did not participate in worship at home and church. Attend church this week and join us in worshiping the Lord.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

History of Neinda Is Traced Back to 1800's

The history of Neinda presented at the 25th annual Neinda Reunion traced the origination of the community back to the 1800s when the G. W. Boyd family settled one-half mile north of Neinda Cemetery.

The history was compiled by Mrs. Earl Brown, Mrs. Jessie Mae (Feagan) Dillard and Mrs. Sam Hodges. They researched the history from newspapers and notes from old timers.

The Boyds' nearest neighbors were seven miles away but it was not long before the Milsap, Terrell, Will Boyd, Bristow, Hooper, Renfro, Feagan, Ferguson, Tidwell and Harper families settled in the area.

Also these families, Gardner, T. A. Durham, Teague, Reynolds, Randolphs, Doctor Bailey, Dr. J. T. Bynum, Uncle Reese Davis, W. W. Bridges, Nelsons, Johnsons, C. P. Yeates, Fletchers, J. E. Harrises, Galloways, Brittons, Kings, McGuire and McLendon were earlyday settlers.

Uncle Johnny O'Brian operated the first Post Office and he and his wife Aunt Molly also operated a grocery store.

Mail was carried from Anson to Neinda by Peg Leg Homes and also a Mr. Willis. The first school was taught in a residence north of Neinda. First teacher was Miss Maggie Willard. Later a two-room school house was built by popular subscription. School term was four months. Other teachers following were Mrs. Sandefer and Miss May Milsap.

The first church built was Methodist on land given by G. W. Boyd. The Baptist Church that is still in use was built in 1891 on land given by T. H. Boyd.

The first doctor was Dr. Montgomery and the first gin was built by W. M. Bristow and Fayet Smith. Power for the gin was furnished by a thrasher engine and in a good day 10 bales could be ginned.

C. D. Scott hauled freight for the stores from Abilene. Businesses included dry goods, groceries, drug stores, lumber yard, and blacksmith shop.

The first telephone line was owned by J. V. (Buck) Milsap. The first messages were sent along a barbed wire fence.

Louis Boyd gave many hours of work, helped keep the cemetery, and erected a small monument at the first grave opened in the Neinda Cemetery. The monument marked the grave of a little boy that died the night that Louis was born in 1891.

The Neinda Reunion held in April each year has as the main purpose the upkeep of the Neinda Cemetery. At the April 25 meeting Miss Lola Milstead reported on the financial condition of the permanent account and John R. Brown gave a report of the cemetery working account, stating the amount of donations and expenses of the work done.

IN LIKE A LION, OUT LIKE A LAMB

Electric precipitators in power house stacks can scrub pollutants from dirty coal and capture much of the objectionable matter. These devices are expensive, however, and add to the cost of generating power. When unreasonable goals are set by environmentalists the cost of meeting such standards can be prohibitive. Striking a balance between the excesses of pollution and the extremes of their prevention is a problem we all must help solve.

Neinda Philosopher Claims CIA Weather Report For Next 40 Years Not Astonishing

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One is astonished at a weather report by the CIA, his letter this week says.

Dear editor:

A couple of years ago when Russian buyers eased into this country and quietly bought up a fourth of our grain crop at below-market prices, on credit to boot, because we didn't know they'd had a big drought over there, I explained our lack of knowledge of Russian weather by saying the CIA simply hadn't trained any of its people to look out a Russian hotel window and see if it was raining.

This, or something, apparently stung the CIA, because it has now gone into the weather business, including the prediction end of it.

According to it, there is going to be "a global political and economic upheaval almost beyond comprehension because of climatic changes that already have occurred. The world has entered a period of adverse weather that will reduce crop production and trigger widespread famine and starvation."

Not stopping there, the CIA report added: "The unfavorable weather is likely to last for at least 40 years and possibly centuries."

Well, I'll tell you, the CIA still hasn't got the hang of the weather business. Doesn't it know that, except occasionally, I've had unfavorable weather ever since I can remember? And I'm not alone. Ask any farmer or rancher at any given moment if the weather suits him.

For example, the weather suits people if they get a rain after a long drought, but if it

Too Early to Spray Pecan Trees for Casebearers, Agent

Its too early to spray pecans for the pecan nut casebearer says Jones County Extension Agent, Kirby Clayton. Many calls are coming into the Extension office about spraying and some have already sprayed, but its too early says, Clayton.

The spray program usually starts around May 25-28 and a second spraying should follow about seven days later.

A definite spraying date for pecans will be announced through this paper later in May.

keeps on raining and the weeds are about to take their crop and if they don't the crop may drown out anyway, see what they say. I have never seen a farmer or orchard owner who could find anything favorable about a hail storm, a drought, a late freeze, or rain on a hay crop ready to be baled.

The CIA folks are right, we're going to have unfavorable weather for the next 40 years, but somebody ought to tell them we've had it ever since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary, but still we've managed to make a crop most of the time.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Legan Retires

Frank Legan, credit manager and service representative for Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., has retired after over 30 years of service, according to Pat Willoughby, manager of Joe Hudspeth's, the local Goodyear dealer.

Legan had been with the Hamlin store for the past 20 years.

Rehab Center Still Has Need For Equipment

West Texas Rehabilitation Center has been successful in its two-month drive to replenish its equipment stock but needs more help to help the handicapped persons who often cannot afford expensive wheelchairs and other necessary items.

James McBryde, shop supervisor at the 4601 Hartford Center in Abilene, said the drive has resulted in a hydraulic lift, six wheelchairs and a number of walkers and crutches being donated.

"We were about to the point of having to turn people away," McBryde said.

The Center now has close to 50 wheelchairs being used free of charge by handicapped persons who would not be able to afford to buy their own.

Included in the gifts, he said, were an electric wheelchair which costs about $1,000, and a child's wheelchair.

He said that some of the equipment still in use is getting old and wearing out.

An adult's wheelchair typically costs from $400 to $500.

Although many Big Country residents have received the benefit of the equipment, Abilenians have contributed most of the equipment in this drive, with the only donations outside the city coming from Snyder and Hamlin, McBryde said.

"The Center is in particular need of wheelchairs," he said.
